

The Faculty of Music is Canada's largest and most renowned university-based music program for professional musical training, creation, performance, education, and research. Home to a diverse and dynamic community of scholars, performers, composers, and educators, the University of Toronto's Faculty of Music offers a supportive community in one of the world's most diverse and dynamic cities. We provide a superb learning environment, an internationally renowned teaching faculty, multiple performance halls, and an outstanding music library collection. With degrees and diplomas available in numerous areas of study, our array of courses and programs provides our 900 students an exceptional opportunity to explore various fields within music. With over 600 concerts and events annually, the Faculty is an exciting and vibrant place to work, study, and visit.

Our faculty members include musicians who perform on the world's most prestigious stages and record for major labels, scholars who present at leading international conferences and publish with top presses, educators who offer workshops and masterclasses at universities and conservatories worldwide, and composers whose works are performed by renowned ensembles and commissioned by acclaimed musicians and arts organizations.

The Faculty of Music is seeking the services of a video/audio expert to record and stream up to 30 events in the 2023-24 Concert Season. The successful candidate will present a demonstrated expertise in recording, streaming, and editing audio and video and will be equipped with and conversant in the use of current recording technologies. The successful candidate will be required to provide their own equipment.

Qualifications:

Master's degree in Music or related field.

Hours of Work:

0-28 hours per week according to events schedule. Peak times are late October, early December, late February, April.

After-hours and weekend work required.

Hourly Rate: $50/hour

Please submit a cover letter, resume and links to sample recordings made in the last 6 months to Jeffrey McFadden, Associate Dean, Performance and Public Events at jeffrey.mcfadden@utoronto.ca by September 25, 2023.